1. According to Madison, why does a pure democracy make majority factions dangerous?

2. Why is a republic better than a pure democracy in checking the dangers of factions—especially majority factions? What is the advantage Madison sees in a large republic versus a small republic?