
1. According to a landmark study of lobbying, how much difference does money make to lobbyist’s prospects for winning a policy change? Describe two reasons that help explain that result.

2. What is the best predictor of when a lobbyist will succeed in winning a policy change? Why does that factor matter so much?

3. Why is patience a virtue for lobbyists?