What is a ‘Nation’?

‘Imagined Communities’ (Benedict Anderson)

- More diffuse than local ‘communities’ that interact face-to-face; did not arise organically, but socially constructed for a common purpose
- Tied to rise of popular/mass media (starting w/ print newspapers, books)
- Sense of community: cohesive (official) identity, self-image
  - Official language, currency, institutions; religion (in some cases)
  - Symbolism (Flags, national anthems, sports teams, monuments, cultural heritage)
  - National Discourse (nationalist slogans, holidays/celebrations, origin stories, etc)

The ‘Nation-State’ as a Social/Economic Unit

- Originates in context of Europe & the Industrial Revolution
- Legalistic Category (territorial designation/administrative boundaries)
- Republican (representative) democracy
  - Rise of capitalism & merchant/industrial classes
  - Aristocracy → Democracy
- With rise of imperialism: associated with modernity, civilization, ‘The West’
  - A kind of ‘top-down’ nationalism – Fascism as extreme form (Nazis)
Precolonial / Colonial Africa

National Liberation:
Frantz Fanon’s Wretched of the Earth

- Biographical notes
  - Psychiatrist from Martinique; Worked in Algeria
  - Supported Algeria’s liberation struggle against French colonizers (FLN)

- National Consciousness in Decolonial Struggle
  - Class formations among the colonized → different orientations, alliances
    - National Bourgeoisie (‘eyes to Europe’)
    - Peasants (traditional)
    - Intellectuals (Western-educated, Marxist/Socialist)

- Political Violence in Decolonization/Independence
  - Trauma of colonial subjugation; Internalized racism (and sexism)
  - Oppressive regimes – reality & necessity of armed struggle

- Revolutionary vision of the Postcolonial Nation
  - Collective identity forged out of the anti-colonial liberation struggle
  - “The living expression of the nation is the collective consciousness in motion of the entire people. It is the enlightened and coherent praxis of men and women. The collective forging of a destiny implies undertaking responsibility on a truly historical scale.” (Fanon, Wretched of the Earth)
Discourses of Nationalism:
‘Top-down’ vs. ‘bottom-up’

- Imperial era – Colonizers
  - Employed difference to justify military force
  - Economic security – ‘Protectionism at home, empire abroad’ (In reader: Hobsbawm)
    - Industrialization (need for raw materials, markets)
    - Competition (inter-imperial rivalry) and ‘national interest’
  - Discourses of race & racism: ‘White Man’s Burden’

- Postcolonial era – Colonized
  - Sovereignty & political self-determination (Cold War context)
  - Modernization & Industrialization – ‘Development project’ (In reader: McMichael)
  - Anti-colonialism and the liberation struggle – forming national identity
    - Different ethnic/religious/political groups w/ varying interests, alliances
  - Racial justice & dignity for colonized peoples in international arena
    - UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights (In reader: McMichael)
“Pandora’s Box, Episode 5: Black Power”

Post-colonial challenges: Who ‘determines’ self-determination?

Development after Independence: Self-determination?
- Modernization & Industrialization / ‘Take-off’ (*In reader: McMichael)
  - Stage theory of development – ‘catch up’ to West (postwar American society as model)
  - National industrialization/ISI: develop domestic manufacturing, consumer market
- Developmental State – government-run industry, public works, urbanization
  - Inherited infrastructure of colonial economy (based on ag/extraction of raw materials)
  - Development alliances (US, firms in former imperial countries / USSR)

Postcolonial Nation-States: challenges to self-determination
- Nationalism: forging a collective identity, common social values/goals
  - Degree of identification with Western ideals, values, norms
- Foreign obstacles – Cold War & the ‘hidden fist’ of bipolar economic order
  - Geopolitics of economic assistance (aid, development loans, infrastructure financing)
    - From US, former colonial powers, or Communist blocs?
    - Consequence of alliances – or attempts at autonomy (i.e. nationalization of resources)
  - Military interventions (proxy wars, coup d’états, invasion/occupation)
The Cold War: First/Second/Third Worlds

- First World (Capitalist): USA
- Second World (Communist): USSR / China
- Third World (Various): Postcolonial – Bandung Conference
