1 You connect to the web via an Internet Service Provider (ISP).

2 Your computer contacts a network of servers called Domain Name System (DNS) servers. They return an IP address.
Your computer uses the number provided by the DNS servers to go to the web server hosting the website you want to visit.

The web server then sends the page you requested back to your web browser.