

Primary Sources For Week Three

Bliven, B. (1925, Sept. 9). Flapper Jane. New Republic. Retrieved from <http://www.newrepublic.com/article/113130/bruce-bliven-interviews-flapper>

A magazine article originally published in 1925 about flappers. This is a primary source that can be used for discussions, as well as the Week Three Assignment and Final Project.

Accessibility Statement does not exist

Privacy Policy

Hardenbergh, M. (1923, Aug. 12). Taking the hand off the cradle to catch devil fish: How modern woman is delving into the sacred precincts of male occupation and is now found in the role of bandit, judge, bricklayer, hunter, and race horse jokey. The Atlanta Constitution, 2-3. Retrieved from <http://www.americainclass.org/sources/becomingmodern/modernity/text2/colcommentarymodernwoman.pdf>

A newspaper article published in 1923 about women working in formerly all-male jobs. This is a primary source that can be used for discussions, as well as the Week Three Assignment and Final Project.

Accessibility statement does not exist.

Privacy policy does not exist.

Hartt, R. L. (1921, Jan. 15). "The new Negro": "When he's hit, he hits back!". Independent, 76, 59-60. Retrieved from <http://historymatters.gmu.edu/d/5127>

A newspaper article published in 1921 about a new determination among African Americans to achieve equality and respect. This is a primary source that can be used for discussions, as well as the Week Three Assignment and Final Project.

Accessibility statement does not exist.

Privacy policy does not exist.

Indian Thorpe greatest sport marvel of all time. (1922, Feb. 18). The Evening World. Retrieved from <http://chroniclingamerica.loc.gov/lccn/sn83030193/1922-02-18/ed-1/seq-7.pdf>

A newspaper article published in 1922 about Jim Thorpe, a famous Native American athlete. This is a primary source that can be used for discussions, as well as the Week Three Assignment and Final Project.

Accessibility statement does not exist.

Privacy policy does not exist.

Marshall, C. C. (1927). Should a Catholic be president?: A contemporary view of the 1928 election. Atlantic Monthly, 139, 540-544, 548-549. Retrieved from <http://historymatters.gmu.edu/d/5074>

A magazine article published in 1927 arguing that Catholic Americans' first loyalty was to the Pope and not country, making them unacceptable for holding high public office. This is a primary source that can be used for discussions, as well as the Week Three Assignment and Final Project.

Accessibility statement does not exist.

Privacy policy does not exist.

McDougald, E. J. (1925). Elise Johnson McDonald on "The double task: The struggle of Negro women for sex and race emancipation". In A. Locke (Ed.), The New Negro: An Interpretation. Retrieved from <http://historymatters.gmu.edu/d/5126>

An essay published in 1925, discussing the challenges faced by African-American women in different economic groups. This is a primary source that can be used for discussions, as well as the Week Three Assignment and Final Project.

Accessibility statement does not exist.

Privacy policy does not exist.

Smith, E. D. (1924). "Shut the door": A senator speaks for immigration restriction. Congressional Record, 65, 5961–5962. Retrieved from <http://historymatters.gmu.edu/d/5080>

An excerpt from a congressional debate on the Immigration Act of 1924 that illustrates attitudes toward different groups of immigrants at that time. This is a primary source that can be used for discussions, as well as the Week Three Assignment and Final Project.

Accessibility statement does not exist.

Privacy policy does not exist.

U.S. v. Bhagat Singh Thind, 261 U.S. 204 (1923). Retrieved from Not all Caucasians are White: The supreme court rejects citizenship for Asian Indians
<http://historymatters.gmu.edu/d/5076>

An excerpt from a Supreme Court ruling from 1923 in which the Justices ruled that only free whites could be US citizens. This is a primary source that can be used for discussions, as well as the Week Three Assignment and Final Project.

Accessibility statement does not exist.

Privacy policy does not exist.